One of the things the Democrats lack is campaign funds. The opposition always has a big campaign fund, which they get from nearly all of the big corporations.
This year they will be in better shape than ever, they will have just as much of a slush fund as they need. The Democrats will have just about enough to keep headquarters open, and their lack of funds of course will handicap them in the campaign. Every democrat that can, should donate at least a small amount to the state and county committees. If every Democrat will help a little it will not be hard on any of them. Send in your contribution, send a little to the state and a little to your county committee. You will never miss it and it will help them.

Why He Is For Stubbs.

One of the cleverest bits of political buncombe one could wish for appeared in a recent issue of the Kansas City Star, supposed to have been written by a Kansas Democrat, giving certain reasons why he is for Stubbs. The writer recites how hard and ardently he had been fighting the battles of Democracy, for lo these many years. How he is still a Democrat, but that he believes it is now a fight between right and wrong, in trying to defeat Gov.
Stubbs. The entire article smacks so strongly of a Stubbs Republican letter, that many may not see the point, which is that it is intended to stir up discord within the ranks of the Democracy.

A fight between right and the wrong, it to a certainty is, but the fight is not an old one. It is one that has been hanging fire for many years, and the party that this erstwhile Kansas Democrat now expects to cast his vote with is the one that has kept the fight up on the wrong side of the political fence. If the writer of that letter believed in the Democratic platforms for which he stood in the past he cannot help but believe in them now. If they were right then, why are they not right now, as long as even the Republicans, who have for years opposed them, have finally come to the conclusion that they are right. If those principles are right, he is doing an injustice to those who have kept the "faith" in Kansas to vote against them. That those who are disgruntled in their own party, will vote for the other ticket, is not a weakness of that other ticket. If the things that the standpatters charged against the Stubbs administration are half true, how can those who fought Stubbs in that campaign vote for him. Does that belittle Hodges, the Democratic candidate who has manfully stood by the guns fighting for those principles which the Republican party has fought in the last twenty years? We should say not. Not a Republican on the ticket but what during the campaigns in the past has fought the platform, which contained some of the planks that their platform now contains. Can you point to one thing in Governor Hodges which would indicate that he would not carry out the pledges he has made, if elected? Can you point to one thing in his record in the senate that would indicate that? You can't do it. And that being the case, the Democrat who has been voting the ticket is not doing right when he will vote against it now. Where did the initiative and referendum come from? Where did the bank guarantee law come from? Where did the election of United States senators by the people come from?

Where did any of the two dozen items upon which Stubbs is making his campaign come from? If was making money in railroad contracts and not thinking of politics when they were first broug out by the Democrats, then why not stand by the fellows that have made the Republicans come to these issues, that have kept them to the front?

To quote Mr. Bryan:
"Is it fair to turn down these Democrats who have for fifteen or more years been bearing the brunt of the fight, to now give the fruits of victory, after the people have finally been won over to our way of thinking, to the Republicans who have just seen the light?"

"Is it encouraging to the man who has fought a good fight, and who bears the scars of honorable war, to turn the veteran down in order to reward the raw recruit?"
"Two years ago Colliers Weekly published a cartoon showing Colonel Roosevelt and myself together with a nest. Roosevelt was on the nest. I was on a twig. Mr.
Roosevelt had all of my feathers except one. That was tariff reform."

"I asked myself how long it would be before he took that. My friends, it wasn't long before they tried to take that feather from me leaving me absolutely without an issue of my own."

"Then Roosevelt went to Africa, and I said to myself, 'Now I can grow some new feathers.' Well, Roosevelt came back just as I had a nice new crop. The other day at Osawatimie he tried to take even my pin feathers away from me."

"But these issues are mine.
They belong to the progressive Democratic party. The Republicans can advocate them if they want to. But I have a right to demand that the Democrat who has stood true to the faith shall not now be forgotten, and the reward go to the Republican who is a new convert."

"Is it fair that we who, have been making the fight when it was unpopular shall be forgotten when the issues we advocated become popular?"

ROYAL BREEDING SALES.

Chance of Year to Get Exactly What Will Be Most Useful.

The best chance of the year to get cattle for breeding or feeding is at the American Royal Live Stock Show, Kansas City, October 10-15. The purpose of this show is to disclose the animals which represent the highest progress in breeding, since the leading breeders are represented, and the contests involve comparisons of such leading herds. It is important to every breeder, therefore, to find out, at the Royal, just what the ideal characteristics of beef cattle are—and it is equally important that he discover just where he can get such animals to use in breeding.

The sales of breeding cattle at the American Royal have been appreciated. Breeders know that the animals offered are carefully selected, since it is a matter of principle as well as of pride, for the association to arrange for the inspection and selection of the offerings. The secretaries of the Hereford, Shorthorn, Galloway, and Aberdeen-Angus associations report that the committees have already inspected the animals offered for the sale, and that the best lot Royal visitors ever had a chance to bid on will be seen.

About fifty animals will be offered by the breeders of each breed. Many of the bulls are fit to head the good herds of the country; many are young animals, with which new herds might well be started, and all are exactly the selection from which a person desiring to improve his herd can find the animal that he needs. The secretaries of the associations, as well as prominent breeders, are available during the show to suggest to prospective purchasers the chief points of the breeds.

A paint for every purpose, ten cents and up, Sherwin-Williams "Brighten Up Finishes" at Bon-durant's only.

You Are Wise

When you insure your property against loss—When you insure your life for the benefit of yourself and family—When you plow fire guards around your wheat stacks—When you use every possible means of protecting your life from disease, sickness, and death.

YOU ARE FOOLISH

When you do not carefully and intelligently insure your hard earned money against loss.

You are getting older and you can't earn it as easily as you could when you were younger.
You are at that age. You don't care to take any chances—and you don't have to.

You can insure your money against loss by depositing it in the Citizens National Bank, of Great Bend, Kansas.

Who insure all of their deposits against loss, and it don't cost their depositors a cent. The bank pays the cost of insurance.

Think it over carefully, and see if you would like your money insured against loss—just as well as your house, barns, and wheat, and especially so when it don't cost you anything.

You are no better nor safer than the government, are you?
Perhaps not as strong as it is.
Because if it loses it can draw from all of you people, but if you lose you can't draw from anybody. You would have to start in and work harder than ever to make it again.

NOW DO YOU KNOW

That the U. S. government takes no chances when it deposits its money in a bank. It makes the bank secure the money from loss. So does the state of Kansas make all the banks secure the money they deposit in them.
So does the county make banks secure county money. They do not take into consideration the capital of a bank, its surplus, or liabilities of its officers or directors. They say you are no better than anybody else—if you want any of our deposits in your bank, secure us against loss.

This is what you want, and this is why the Citizens National Bank pays out hundreds of dollars every year to secure your money deposited with them for safe keeping. We know you appreciate it by the way you are doing business with us.

We pay interest on time deposits, and these time deposits are also insured against loss.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES

Keep your valuable papers, will mortgages, receipts, and jewelry in one of our Fire Proof, Burglar Proof Safety Deposit Boxes. You have the key to it—you use it when you want it. It costs you only two dollars a year. Had you not better come in and talk this banking matter over with us and see what else we can do for you?
We can do you good in many different ways. See us.
